Health Savings Accounts

All contributions to your HSA are initially made to an HSA Base Account, a deposit account with UMB Bank, n.a. Funds held in the HSA Base Account are insured by the FDIC to the maximum amount permitted by law. However, if you have more money in your account than you need to pay for your qualified medical expenses and related fees, you can invest additional funds by opening an HSA Money Market Sweep Account*‡ with UMB Bank or an HSA Self-directed Brokerage Account with UMB Financial Services, Inc.‡

HSA Money Market Sweep Account*‡

An HSA Money Market Sweep Account provides you with an investment option that may allow you to earn higher yields on your HSA funds, while having the funds quickly available to pay for your medical expenses. With the Money Market Sweep Account, funds in your HSA Base Account in excess of a specified (peg) balance limit, currently $1,000 but subject to change, are automatically swept on a daily basis into a money market mutual fund account. UMB will purchase shares of the money market fund in the amount of your excess balance. Then, as you continue contributions, additional dollars are moved into the sweep account. In the event you have medical expenses that cause your HSA Base Account balance to fall below the required balance limit, shares of the fund in your sweep account are sold to cover the shortfall. Certain fees apply.

HSA Self-directed Brokerage Account

A Self-directed Brokerage Account through UMB Financial Services, Inc.‡

The HSA Self-directed Brokerage Option allows you to invest excess funds from your HSA Base Account into a self-directed brokerage account that is part of your HSA, thereby giving you the opportunity to manage your own investments. To be eligible to open a Self-directed Brokerage Account for your HSA funds through UMB Financial Services, you must have the required balance limit of $1,000 in your Base Account plus the initial minimum investment amount for the fund(s) you wish to purchase.

Once your UMB Financial Services HSA Self-directed Brokerage Account is open, UMB will provide a Trading Authorization to UMB Financial Services that will give you the authority to place purchase and redemption orders for your Brokerage account. You may direct the purchase of shares in any one or more mutual funds from a number of nationally recognized fund families, including:

- AIM
- Federated
- Fidelity
- Franklin Templeton
- Oppenheimer
- Scout Funds†

Certain minimum investment amounts may apply, which may vary by fund, and certain fees apply.

You will also have access to helpful investing tools to help you in your investing process.
